

CHC33015 Certificate III in Individual Support

COURSE OVERVIEW

- The CHC33015 Certificate III in Individual Support qualification gives the skills and knowledge to work as Personal Care Assistants or Assistants in Nursing, providing assistance with the activities of daily living. Graduates will be able to work in residential settings such as nursing homes, hostels, supported accommodation and private homes.
- This new qualification combines Aged Care, Disability and Home and Community Care specialties and will become the minimum standard required to work in the Care Industry. Depending on which sector of the Care Industry you wish to work in, you can choose units to specialise in Aged Care, Disability or Home and Community Care.
- The course is fully accredited nationally recognised training.

COURSE ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

- There are no formal entry requirements for this course, however it is expected that students have good communication skills and a genuine interest working with and caring for the elderly and disabled.
- Be aware that working in this industry will require you to obtain a National Police check prior to commencing employment. Other States and Territories outside NSW have similar guidelines and if you move around Australia it is advisable to check with local licensing authorities. If you want to work in the ACT for example, you will also need to undergo a Working with Vulnerable People check.
- Be aware also that most care facilities will require that workers are physically fit and emotionally capable of working in the environment. This also means that workers do not have a pre-existing medical condition or a communicable disease that may put the health and safety of the client and other staff at risk.

DURATION & STRUCTURE

- The course combines face to face classroom based learning, workplace based practical placement and assessment and self paced study and assessment. The program has regular enrollment intervals, with students able to commence study throughout the year.
- The course duration is 12 months (36 weeks without term breaks and public holidays) with students attending 1 day a week for 6.5 hours each day. This includes all learning and assessment activities.
- Students are also required to complete 120 hours of practical placement and assessment. There will be an emphasis on completing certain activities at home, outside of classroom hours and these will be set by the trainer/assessor as the program progresses. These activities are for the purposes of learning and consolidation.
